Refund Policy

For Research Analyst Services

Research services are provided by Sachin Naik, a SEBI Registered Research Analyst (INH000021119). We do not guarantee any research recommendation, call or report, or any returns.

Fees for research services, if any, are set out in the client's agreement. Where no separate fee is charged for research services, for example for students of our learning programmes, there is nothing to refund, and access to the research ends as the agreement says. If a client is charged a fee for research services, SEBI's rules apply: the fee is taken only for the period SEBI allows, and if the services end early the fee for the unexpired period is refunded. The client's signed agreement gives the details.

Before enrolling, please read our Terms and Conditions, Privacy Policy and Refund Policy.
